

Great music, great food, and a great cause come together this Saturday, August 1st at Mulligan's Restaurant & Pizzeria Lounge in Knoxville. It's the Dog Days of Summer – A celebration concert featuring Kimber Cleveland and friends to raise funds for Young-Williams Animal Center.

The event kicks off at noon with a full-day of musical artists set to perform including: Jimmy Ray and Lisa, Ronnie Appleman, The Mood, Chillbillies, Freequency, Homemade Wine, Doug Shock, and Kimber Cleveland.

A $5 entry donation will go to Young-Williams Animal Center, Knoxville's number one adoption option, to help feed and take care of rescued animals. For more information about donating to Young-Williams or to download a wish list of supplies needed by the center, visit their website at <http://www.knoxpets.org/wishlist.asp>.

"Anyone who knows me knows that I have a huge place in my heart for these wonderful animals," Kimber Cleveland, the event's co-organizer, said. "After visiting Young-Williams with Don Anderson from Mulligan's he agreed to help me put on this wonderful event."

"This is going to be a great opportunity for kids and the community to learn more about local rescue groups, some of which may bring their adoptable animals out to enjoy the day with them," she added. "And who knows? You may meet your new 'best friend' this Saturday!"

There will also be a wine and cheese tasting, drawings for door prizes, and local artists selling artwork in support of YWAC. Monies raised from sales of Kimber Cleveland's music cd, as well as tips generated during her performance, will also be donated to Young-Williams.

Additionally, for each donation of a 10-pound bag of Science Diet dog food, Mulligan's will be giving away a coupon good for a free Sunday Brunch.

All members of the family – including spayed/neutered and leashed pets – are welcome to attend this day-long event which will feature a live radio broadcast with Knoxville's True Oldies Channel – WOKI 98.7 FM and radio personalities Tom Miller and Julie Gunter.
